

National Association of State Librarians.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The fifth annual convention of the National Association of State Librarians will be held this year at Magnolia, Mass., simultaneously with the American Library Association, June 14-20.

The plan as tried last year at Waukesha, Wis., was found to be successful, a larger number of state librarians being in attendance in consequence of the reduced rates and larger opportunities.

On Wednesday, June 18, the day assigned us by the program committee of the A. L. A., there will be three sessions. The program will be chiefly devoted to public documents and kindred topics. One session will be given up to informal discussion, which is the most helpful method of exchange of ideas. The program committee would like to hear from state librarians and those connected with the work as to the various problems they would wish discussed.

A tour of the neighboring state libraries will be made if a sufficient number desire to do so.

The program will be mailed you about the 20th of May. The secretary will be glad to furnish any information desired.

Very respectfully,

MAUDE THAYER,

Illinois State Library.
